

May 22, 1975

members of a special committee where Senator Warner is Chairman. Also in Senator Warner's motion for the resolution it called for two Senators from each of the Congressional districts, on that we had taken action yesterday. It was our idea, our deliberation, our discussion of yesterday afternoon that, with the three committees, the Senator Warner committee would take in the broad aspect of all post-education ... secondary education and all higher education and look at it from all facets. The Education Committee, naturally, would be interested in the academic end of it. The Budget Committee, or Appropriations Committee Senator Marvel, would have another area that they would be interested in. There was one prime discussion. It all centered on the nine members of the Executive Board feeling very strongly that since we had the three committees it was most important that the three committees and their three chairmen get together from time to time and sit and discuss the general area that they were studying so that we could find that the committees would not be overlapping, but would be together in discussing interests that are common to higher education. I also might point out to you that it was a decision of the Executive Board that, where we combined two committees together for instance in the area of Public Health as one committee and I believe in the Committee of Banking, Commerce and Insurance in the study of malpractice which is of great interest across the country, that the committee is to be composed of three members from each committee for a total of six. The chairman of the committee and the three members of a committee be brought together and be a total of three from that committee that would serve. You'll notice that there are one or two studies that are back to the Executive Board for further study. You'll notice that there are many on-going studies, such as Judiciary continuing their study in bringing back legislation that they think is necessary in the areas of law enforcement. There you'll notice in your sheets that there are several resolutions in that area. I think that I have given you a pretty good explanation into that field that we talked of.

Now I would bring your attention to the second sheet. If I may have the Senators attention. I think it's important because I think there might be a discussion in this. There were three studies that the Legislative Executive Board had disapproved of. It is at this time that individual Senators, if they have any strong feelings in this area, that I alert you now that here is the time that you may place a motion on the desk and plead your case that you think that one of these resolutions might be of such importance that you have the opportunity to discuss it here on the floor this morning, and ask that the Executive Board be overturned in its decision; and you have the opportunity to make that study. Is there any comment from Senators, or any motions, concerning the three resolutions that were disapproved?

PRESIDENT: Senator Goodrich.